

Society Noticeboard

CLE

FOR YOUR DIARY

Thursday 14 May: 5pm, Jury Muster Room. "Using the Trade Practices Act to Deal With the Work Health Act and Motor Vehicles Compensation Act." Alistair Wyvill.

June: Family law - overview for non-family law practitioners. Stuart Barr (Ward Keller) and Janet Terry (Morgan Buckley).

Monday 6 July: Mr Christopher Symes, Law lecturer at Flinders University will speak on issues in insolvency.

Full details of CLE presentations will be advised.

movement at the station

Kate Stevenson, formerly of Terrill & Associates, will now practise with Morgan Buckley Mildrens

warning

Yet another Nigerian scam letter has been received by a Darwin practitioner, this one signed by Doctor Innocent Abu.

Practitioners are again warned that the schemes mentioned in these letters are not considered to be reliable.

law reform committee

The Northern Territory Law Reform Committee invites individuals and organisations to raise matters for consideration by the committee.

Please write to:

The Executive Officer
Law Society of the NT
GPO Box 2388
DARWIN NT 0801

human rights register

The Catholic Commission for Justice, Development and Peace advises that it has not received any reply from the NT to its request for information on human rights' issues which could be included in its Human Rights Register.

The Law Society can supply a copy of the information sheet to anyone who wishes to register information.

nt women lawyers

NT Women Lawyers' Association will meet for drinks at 5pm on the third Thursday of each month at 'Raffles'.

All interested members of the legal community are invited to join them.

Contact Sought with Law Firms in Australia

The Law Council of Australia has passed on to this society a letter from the Balms Group International, an international association of independent law firms founded by Balms Abogados in Marbella and Madrid and Black Graf & Co in London who are interested in making contact with Australian legal firms for an association.

The Balms Group consists of firms that are small in size (10-20 lawyers) but renowned for their practices in their respective cities.

The chief intention of the group is to provide both a high quality service to clients on an international scale and a scope for the interchange of knowledge and information between member firms.

The group is the only association of this nature to have originated in both England and Spain and allows members to enjoy national exclusivity and independence at the same time.

The Balms Group have supplied information about the group and a questionnaire to be filled in by firms looking to join this association.

Interested parties may obtain a copy of this information from the Law Society.