

CHEMICAL INHALATION

We act for a Plaintiff who has suffered injuries as a result of a chemical inhalation, which occurred whilst he was driving a truck carting wheat. Our client sustained the injury whilst removing a tarpaulin, which was covering a load of wheat. The chemical concerned is believed to be Dichlorvos 1140 Insecticide. We would appreciate advice from any member who can provide information as to the composition and effect of such pesticide and any other information which may be of relevance to the claim.

TRAPPED IN TRAIN DOORS

We have a client who claims to have been trapped inside railway carriage doors on the Ipswich line which unexpectedly shut on her out of sequence with other carriage doors and without warning. We would be interested to hear from other Solicitors who have a client or clients with a similar experience.
