

Dr Keith Tronc

It comes as no surprise that Dr Keith Tronc is the only lawyer who has been invited to speak at every APLA National Conference throughout Australia since the inception of the organisation. And each year he rates in the top three speakers for knowledge and delivery of his topic.

Dr Tronc is a barrister in private practice in Brisbane. He is a former teacher, school principal, associate professor of education, and management consultant. His informative and entertaining presentations are underpinned by an impressive educational pedigree.

He holds a doctorate and three masters degrees in educational, administration and public administration, in addition to an honours degree in law. A prolific writer, he has been an author, co-author or editor of over 40 books on education and the law, education, administration, parenting and organisational theory. His legal publications include:

- You, Your School and the Law (Fernfawn Press, 1995);
- Australian Teachers and the Law (Butterworths, 1989);
- Australian Schools and the Law (University of Queensland, 1982).

Dr Tronc's professional practice is focused on the litigation of educational matters, particularly personal injury cases and sexual abuse trials. He has also appeared as an expert witness in relation to issues of educational administration in numerous hearings throughout Australia. As well as making a considerable legal and educational contribution to APLA's national education program, he is a staunch supporter of APLA in Queensland. His knowledge and expertise is one of our great assets. PL

Plaintiff gets a new masthead and upgrades to full colour

From the September edition you will be able to advertise in this journal in full colour.

- Published six times each year
- Distributed nationally to over 1800 lawyers and associated professionals

Full colour rates start at a low $744 per issue

Call Donna Wiemann on (02) 9698 1700 or email dwiemann@apla.com.au for more information.