Gambling Legislation Amendment (Responsible Gambling) Act 1999 No 49—Proclamation

Explanatory note

The object of this proclamation is to commence the amendments to:

- (a) the Casino Control Act 1992 to require casino operators to train certain staff in responsible practices in relation to the conduct of gaming activities, and
- (b) the Lotteries and Art Unions Act 1901 to allow a court to suspend or revoke a permit or take other prescribed action in addition to, or as an alternative to, any penalty it may impose for certain offences, and
- (c) the Public Lotteries Act 1996 to require a notice to be displayed in certain places regarding minors being prohibited from entering a public lottery, and to allow a court to order a person to publish an advertisement correcting information or to undertake a specific course of training in relation to a breach of section 39 of the Act, and to make it an offence to advertise that a reward will be accepted for a method of increasing the chances of winning a prize in a lottery, and
- (d) the Racing Administration Act 1998 to allow a court to order a person to publish an advertisement correcting information or to undertake a specific course of training in relation to a prescribed offence, and
- (e) the Totalizator Act 1997 to allow a court to order a person to publish an advertisement correcting information or to undertake a specific course of training in relation to a prescribed offence.
