

ANNO QUADRAGESIMO OCTAVO ET QUADRAGESIMO
NONO

VICTORIÆ REGINÆ.

A.D. 1885.

No. 361.

An Act to further amend "The Probate and Succession Duty Act, 1876."

[Assented to, December 11th, 1885.]

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend "The Probate and Succession Duty Act, 1876," in manner hereinafter provided—Be it therefore Enacted by the Governor of the Province of South Australia, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly of the said province, in this present Parliament assembled, as follows:

1. This Act, "The Probate and Succession Duty Act, 1876," and Act No. 225 of 1881, intituled "An Act to amend the Probate and Succession Duty Act, 1876," shall be incorporated and read together as one Act.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in subsection II. of section 3 of Act No. 225 of 1881, the Commissioner of Inland Revenue or Registrar of Probates, as the case may be, may endorse on any instrument a certificate that no succession duty is at present payable in respect thereof, and thereupon the Registrar-General may register such instrument; but should the succession duty be payable before the expiration of the term created by such instrument, both the term in such instrument and the land in respect of which such term is created shall be liable for payment of such duty.

3. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Probate and Succession Duty Further Amendment Act."

In the name and on behalf of Her Majesty, I hereby assent to this Bill.

WILLIAM C. F. ROBINSON, Governor.
