(2B) The method of calculating the conversion under sub-section (2A) is to be determined by the Minister on the advice of an actuary appointed by the administrators.

- (3) If any pension payable under the terms of a statutory superannuation scheme may be totally or partially converted to a lump sum payment on the election or application of the person to whom it is payable, a person entitled to a pension in accordance with this Act is entitled to elect to receive or to apply for the conversion of the pension or part of the pension to a lump sum payment calculated and payable in accordance with the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme relating to the conversion of pensions to lump sum payments.

5A. Beneficiary Choice Program

S. 5A
inserted by
No. 95/2000
s. 17.

- (1) In this section—

"Beneficiary Choice Scheme" means the Beneficiary Choice Scheme established under Part 3A of the State Superannuation Act 1988;

"eligible beneficiary" means a person who at any time during the election period is entitled, or becomes entitled, to a deferred retirement benefit by the operation of section 5;

"election period" means the period—

- (a) specified by the Minister in a notice published in the Government Gazette in respect of all or particular classes of eligible beneficiaries; and
 - (b) if the Minister so decides, as extended to a later date as is specified by the Minister in a further notice published in the Government Gazette.
- (2) An eligible beneficiary may during the relevant election period apply in writing to the administrator to participate in the beneficiary choice program in the form approved by the administrator.

- (3) An eligible beneficiary must elect to commute the whole of his or her deferred retirement benefit entitlement.
- (4) An application under this section—
 - (a) can not be withdrawn after it has been accepted by the administrator;
 - (b) ceases to have any effect if the applicant dies before the application is accepted by the administrator.
- (5) If the administrator accepts an application under sub-section (2), the eligible beneficiary is entitled to a commutation benefit of a lump sum determined by the administrator.
- (6) The method of calculating the commutation benefit of an eligible beneficiary under sub-section (5) is to be determined by the Minister on the advice of an actuary appointed by the administrator.
- (7) As soon as the commutation benefit is transferred to a complying superannuation fund nominated by the eligible beneficiary—
 - (a) the administrator is released from any liability in respect of the entitlements of the eligible beneficiary specified in the application under sub-section (3); and
 - (b) the eligible beneficiary ceases to be a member of the statutory superannuation scheme to which their deferred benefit relates.

6. Amount of deferred retirement benefit

- (1) If a member who is aged 60 years or under has been required to contribute a uniform percentage of his or her salary throughout his or her membership of the statutory superannuation scheme and the benefit or part of the benefit

which would have been payable on his or her retirement had he or she not changed employment was a pension based on salary at or prior to his or her retirement, the deferred retirement benefit or part of that benefit is a pension of an amount determined by—

- (a) calculating in accordance with the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme the amount of the pension payable to him or her if he or she had retired on attaining the age of 60 years on the assumptions that he or she would have served until the age of 60 years and that the actual salary payable prior to the date of his or her change of employment was the salary at or prior to attaining the age of 60 years; and
 - (b) multiplying the amount so calculated by K; and
 - (c) multiplying the amount calculated under paragraph (b) by $\frac{A}{B}$.
- (2) If a member who is aged 60 years or under has been required to contribute a uniform percentage of his or her salary throughout his or her membership of the statutory superannuation scheme and the benefit or part of the benefit which would have been payable on his or her retirement had he or she not changed employment was a lump sum based on salary at or prior to his or her retirement, the deferred retirement benefit or part of that benefit is a lump sum of an amount determined by—
- (a) calculating in accordance with the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme the amount of the lump sum payable to him or her if he or she had retired on attaining the age of 60 years on the assumptions that he or she would have served until the age of 60 years and that the actual salary payable prior to the date of his or her change of employment was the salary at or prior to attaining the age of 60 years; and

- (b) multiplying the amount so calculated by K; and
- (c) multiplying the amount calculated under paragraph (b) by $\frac{A}{B}$.

(3) If a member—

- (a) changes employment when aged 60 years or under; and
- (b) is—
 - (i) an original scheme member or revised scheme member of the State Superannuation Fund; or
 - (ii) a member of the Port of Melbourne Authority Superannuation Scheme—

S. 6(3)(b)(ii)
substituted by
No. 4/1996
s. 121.

the deferred retirement benefit is the amount calculated under sub-section (1) or (2) multiplied by C.

- (4) In the case of a statutory superannuation scheme under which the benefit or part of the benefit which would have been payable on retirement of the member had he or she not changed employment was based on salary at or prior to retirement but none of sub-sections (1), (2) or (3) applies, the deferred benefit or part of that benefit for a member who changes employment aged 60 years or under is equal to the retirement benefit to which he or she would be entitled under the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme if he or she was to be taken to retire at the age of

60 years on the date of changing employment multiplied by $\frac{A}{B}$.

- (5) In the case of a statutory superannuation scheme in which the benefit or part of the benefit which would have been payable on retirement of the member had he or she not changed employment was a lump sum not based on his or her salary at or prior to his or her date of retirement, the deferred benefit or part of that benefit for a member who changes employment when aged 60 years or under is equal to a lump sum to which he or she would be entitled under the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme if he or she was to be taken to retire at the age of 60 years on the date of changing employment increased by the addition of interest at rates determined by the administrators.
- (6) In the case of a member who is aged over 60 years at the date of change of employment, the deferred retirement benefit is equal to the pension or lump sum that would have been payable at his or her retirement at the date of change of employment—
- (a) if the statutory superannuation scheme is one to which sub-section (1), (2), (3) or (4) applies—multiplied by $\frac{A}{B}$; or
 - (b) if the statutory superannuation scheme is one to which sub-section (5) applies—increased by the addition of interest at rates determined by the administrators.
- (7) If a person who would be entitled to a deferred retirement benefit by the operation of section 5 resigns from employment as specified in section 5 then for the purpose of calculating resignation benefits—

s. 7

- (a) deferred retirement benefits under this Act are to be taken to be the benefits he or she would have received on retirement at the age of 60 years; and
- (b) the aggregate of service for which benefits or deferred benefits are payable under any statutory superannuation scheme is to be recognized as service.

7. Provisions relating to payment of benefits

(1) If a person entitled to a deferred retirement benefit dies there is payable to his or her personal representative or dependants the benefits that the administrators determine having regard to—

S. 7(1)(a) substituted by No. 82/1996 s. 69(1).

- (a) the governing instrument of the member's statutory superannuation scheme as in force at the time the member made the election under section 5(1); and

S. 7(1)(b)(c) repealed by No. 82/1996 s. 69(1).

* * * * *

(d) any other matter they consider relevant.

(2) If a person entitled to a deferred retirement benefit ceases to be gainfully employed on account of disability there is payable the benefits that the administrators determine having regard to—

S. 7(2)(a) substituted by No. 82/1996 s. 69(2).

- (a) the governing instrument of the member's statutory superannuation scheme as in force at the time the member made the election under section 5(1); and

S. 7(2)(b)(c) repealed by No. 82/1996 s. 69(2).

* * * * *

(d) any other matter they consider relevant.

- (3) If any person is in receipt of a deferred retirement pension he or she is entitled to receive any increase in the amount of the pension payable under the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme or in accordance with any decision of the administrators on the same basis as other persons receiving pensions under the statutory superannuation scheme.
- (4) If the aggregate of—
- (a) lump sum benefits payable from statutory superannuation schemes; and
 - (b) pensions payable for statutory superannuation schemes multiplied by CR—
- exceeds 8.4 times the final salary of the member the last deferred retirement benefit granted under this Act must be reduced so that the aggregate does not exceed that multiple of final salary.
- (5) If a person becomes entitled to a deferred retirement pension and the pension under the statutory superannuation scheme carried an entitlement to a partner pension, the entitlement to the deferred retirement pension carries with it an entitlement to a partner pension on the same basis as under the statutory superannuation scheme.
- (6) If a member entitled to a deferred retirement pension reaches the minimum retirement age fixed in the governing instrument of the member's statutory superannuation scheme at any age other than 60 years, the amount of the deferred retirement pension is the amount calculated under section 6 multiplied by $\frac{CC}{CR}$.

inserted by
No. 110/1993
s. 149.

(8) Sub-section (7) applies in respect of any deferred retirement benefit to which a person may be entitled as a result of a previous transfer to a different category of membership or scheme in the same Fund or to another Fund established by or under an Act if the deferred retirement benefit and the benefit preserved under this Act relate to a period of continuous employment.

7A. Payment of benefits subject to specified standards and other provisions

inserted by
No. 13/1999
s. 16.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Act or the governing instrument of the member's statutory superannuation scheme, the payment of any benefit under this Act is subject to—

- (a) any relevant specified standards; and
- (b) any provisions relating to the early release of benefits—which apply to the member's statutory superannuation scheme.

8. Medical classification

A person who elects to take a deferred retirement benefit is entitled to a medical classification under a statutory superannuation scheme of which he or she becomes a member which is no less favourable than the medical classification made under the statutory superannuation scheme from which the deferred retirement benefit was granted.

9. Option relating to certain members

- (1) In this section—

"approved employer" means an employer declared under section 5(1)(c) to be an approved employer in respect of the employment of persons who are officers;

transfer amount transferred from that statutory superannuation scheme.

- (6) The administrators must pay out of the statutory superannuation scheme the transfer amount, after deducting any tax required to be paid under the Commonwealth Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, to the relevant complying superannuation fund.
- (7) If an officer does not make an election in accordance with sub-section (3), the officer is deemed to have elected to transfer the transfer amount to a complying superannuation fund nominated by the administrator of the officer's statutory superannuation scheme.
- (8) No stamp duty or other tax is payable under any Act in respect of anything done under this section.
- (9) The administrators are released from any liability in respect of the entitlements of officers to whom sub-section (6) applies as soon as the transfer amount is paid to the relevant complying superannuation fund.

9AA. Obligation on administrators

- (1) Subject to sub-sections (5) and (6), the administrators must comply with this section if—
 - (a) a superannuation agreement which provides for a payment split; or
 - (b) a flag lifting agreement which provides for a payment split; or
 - (c) a splitting order—is served on the administrators under Part VIIIIB of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975.
- (2) This section also applies to—
 - (a) a superannuation agreement which provides for a payment split; or

(b) a flag lifting agreement which provides for a payment split; or

(c) a splitting order—

which was served on the administrators under Part VIII B of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975 before the commencement of section 34 of the Superannuation Acts (Family Law) Act 2003 if the non-member spouse's entitlements in respect of the superannuation interest have not been satisfied as at that commencement.

(3) If the non-member spouse has not satisfied a relevant condition of release and the member spouse is not receiving a pension under this Act, the administrators must if the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the particular time does not exceed the value of the member spouse's interest in the statutory superannuation fund—

(a) transfer a lump sum amount equal to the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the time of the payment to an eligible superannuation plan nominated in writing by the non-member spouse within the specified period; or

(b) if the non-member spouse fails to nominate in writing an eligible superannuation plan within the specified period, transfer a lump sum amount equal to the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the time of the payment to an eligible rollover fund selected by the administrators.

- (4) If the non-member spouse has satisfied a relevant condition of release or the member spouse is receiving a pension under this Act, the administrators must if the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the particular time does not exceed the value of the member spouse's interest in the statutory superannuation fund—
- (a) if so requested in writing by the non-member spouse within the specified period, pay the non-member spouse a lump sum amount equal to the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the time of the payment; or
 - (b) if so requested in writing by the non-member spouse within the specified period, transfer a lump sum amount equal to the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the time of the payment to an eligible superannuation plan nominated in writing by the non-member spouse; or
 - (c) if no request is received from the non-member spouse within the specified period, transfer a lump sum amount equal to the value of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest at the time of the payment to an eligible rollover fund selected by the administrators.
- (5) Sub-sections (3) and (4) do not apply if—
- (a) the member spouse's superannuation interest is an unsplitable interest; or
 - (b) a payment flag is operating in respect of the member spouse's superannuation interest; or

- (c) the non-member spouse has served a waiver notice on the administrators under section 90MZA of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975 in respect of the member spouse's superannuation interest; or
 - (d) the member spouse's superannuation interest is a payment that is not a splittable payment under Part 2 of the Commonwealth Family Law (Superannuation) Regulations 2001.
- (6) If the member spouse's superannuation interest is a pension under this Act due to a disability which is a splittable payment, the administrators may determine that sub-sections (3) and (4) do not apply.
- (7) If the non-member spouse serves a waiver notice on the administrators under section 90MZA of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975 in respect of the member spouse's superannuation interest, the administrators may make a payment to the non-member spouse not exceeding the value at a particular time of the non-member spouse's entitlement in respect of the superannuation interest less any payments previously made by the administrators to the non-member spouse in accordance with this section.

- (1) The administrators may charge reasonable fees in respect of—
 - (a) a payment split;
 - (b) a payment flag;
 - (c) flag lifting under a flag lifting agreement that does not provide for a payment split;
 - (d) an order under section 90MM of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975 terminating the operation of a payment flag;
 - (e) an application under section 90MZB of the Commonwealth Family Law Act 1975 for information about a superannuation interest;
 - (f) any other thing done by the Board in relation to a superannuation interest covered by a superannuation agreement, flag lifting agreement or splitting order;
 - (g) the provision of information under section 9AC.
- (2) Fees charged under sub-section (1) must not exceed the maximum levels of fees fixed by the Minister for the purposes of this section by notice published in the Government Gazette.

s. 9A

- (3) If the administrators charge a fee under sub-section (1), the fee is payable—
- (a) unless paragraph (b) applies, in the case of sub-section (1)(a), (1)(b), (1)(c), (1)(d) or (1)(f), by the member spouse and the non-member spouse in equal parts; or
 - (b) if the fee is in respect of a payment split under which the non-member spouse is entitled to be paid the whole of the amount of each splittable payment that becomes payable, by the non-member spouse; or
 - (c) in the case of sub-section (1)(e) or (1)(g), by the person who made the application.

9A. Surcharge payments

The administrators of a statutory superannuation scheme must administer any surcharge paid or payable in respect of any benefit under this Act in accordance with the terms of the statutory superannuation scheme.

10. Settlement of disputes

- (1) In this section "dispute" means any dispute—
- (a) as to the amount of any benefit payable in accordance with this Act; or
 - (b) arising as a result of the administrators or a person entitled to a benefit in accordance with this Act considering that the benefit paid or payable to that person is inappropriate having regard to—
 - (i) the governing instrument of the member's statutory superannuation scheme as in force at the time the member made the election under section 5(1); and
