A BILL INTITULED

AN ACT to authorise the Construction of certain Public Works at the Mouth of the Waimea River, in Blind Bay, Nelson. Title.

WHEREAS the Waimea River, in the county of the same name, discharges itself into the sea at Blind Bay by two mouths, one running out to the eastward of an island called Rabbit Island, and the other to the westward thereof; and whereas between the said mouths from their point of divergence and the said island there are mud-flats not ordinarily covered by water except at high tide, and the said flats could be made available for public use if works were constructed to confine the river so as to cause its discharge solely through the eastern mouth, and to prevent the flow of the tide over the mud-flats by closing the western mouth of the said river: And whereas for the purpose of the construction of such works special authority would be required for the temporary occupation of parts of Rabbit Island, the same being reserved as a quarantine-ground: And whereas the Waimea County Council have expressed their willingness to undertake the construction of the aforesaid works at the proper cost of the county in consideration of receiving a grant of the mud-flats reclaimed by such works, and it is expedient to authorise the said construction and the making of such grant as aforesaid: Preamble.
