EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the regulations, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 3 May 1999, amend the Transport Services Licensing Regulations 1989.

The regulations reduce, from $80 to $28.20 (inclusive of goods and services tax), the police vetting fee payable by applicants for a transport service licence in respect of each person specified in the application as a person to have control of the service. The same reduction is made to the police vetting fee payable for each person named in an application for approval of a taxi organisation as a responsible officer or a person to have control of the organisation, and to the vetting fees payable for notified changes to persons having control of a transport service or in responsible officers of an approved taxi organisation.

Issued under the authority of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989.
Date of notification in Gazette: 1 April 1999.
These regulations are administered in the Ministry of Transport.
